Motivate pressers with real-time PPH feedback at the pressing station.

If your pressers don't know their piece per hour (PPH) rate until the next day, it is too late for them to do anything about it. The LCD screen on the PieceCounter provides the presser with real-time feedback of the current PPH goal, current PPH rate and efficiency. The screen is continually updated and allows the presser to know instantly when they are below 100% efficiency and allows them to adjust their speed accordingly.

Real-time monitoring of presser performance from the internet.

All performance data is automatically uploaded in real-time over a traditional computer network to a hosted database. This allows you to login to a web page from anywhere you have Internet access and see an up-to-the-minute status of your plant's efficiency or drill down to each employee's efficiency by garment classification.

Reports automatically e-mailed directly to your inbox.

Don't want to login to a web page every day to get your PieceCounter reports? Now you can have them e-mailed directly to your inbox. Simply schedule which reports you want generated and how often and the system does the rest. You can have the reports sent to yourself and your plant or production managers, or anyone else that needs to see them.

Detailed and summary cost reporting by employee and garment classification (job).

What does it cost to finish a garment? 22¢ for a polo shin? 29¢ for a pair of pants? 15¢ for a laundry shirt? Enter the pay rate of your pressers and know instantly your finishing costs by garment classification.
